KI Summit 2026

Our Takeaways from Hamburg

Less hype, more substance: what we learned at the AI summit of the Handelskammer Hamburg.

We had the opportunity to attend the KI Summit 2026, hosted by Handelskammer Hamburg. And honestly? It was one of those days that remind you why building in this space matters.

Hamburg is becoming a real hub

The energy in the room was inspiring. Less hype, more substance. The conversations weren't about whether AI will change business; that's settled. They were about how to make it work in practice, reliably, securely, and at scale. That's exactly the question 1toX was built to answer.

What we heard

Again and again, we spoke with people from established companies who want to move forward with AI but feel stuck. German companies in particular are cautious and rightly so. The interest is there. The right infrastructure hasn't been, until now.

What made the day special

Beyond the panels, it was the conversations in between that stood out. Fellow founders, operators thinking seriously about digital transformation, and decision-makers who are done waiting on the sidelines. Several of those conversations already point toward meaningful next steps and we're looking forward to seeing where they lead.

If you were at the summit and we crossed paths, it was great to meet you!
